Our History

On the North shore of Lake Tahoe, Mofos Pizza and Pasta has been perfecting our pizza and pasta recipes for over 30 years. Our marinara sauce came from Walter Morrison, a P-38 Pilot during World War II. Walter was shot down over the mediterranean and the current brought him into the coast of Italy where he sought refuge with local sheep herders behind enemy lines. Eventually he ended up in a POW camp towards the end of the war. Walter successfully negotiated with his captors and gained freedom for himself and the other prisoners of that camp. While he was in Italy, he learned how to make traditional marinara sauce, which is what our current recipe is based on.

Walters son, John Morrison and his wife Barbara started Mofos Pizza and Pasta in Incline Village in 1986. Their son, Justin Morrison bought the restaurant from John in 2015. In early 2017 John Morrison lost his battle with cancer. Since Justin took over, he has spent countless hours fine-tuning the recipes and making general improvements to the restaurant, carrying on the family legacy by maintaining high quality here at our original location in Incline Village.

We hope you enjoyed dining with us and plan to come visit again soon.
